THEME

The conference deals with topics related with the conservation of biodiversity in Făgăraş Mountains, including issues of Red Lists, Important Species Areas, Ecology, dispersal and habitats of threatened species, in situ and ex situ conservation efforts, and Conservation biology.

During the conference there will be panel discussions on various aspects of the proposed Făgăraş Mountains National Park and some events to celebrate the local people of the Făgăraş Mountains.

We invite all scientists, researchers, conservationists, members of the national and local administrative bodies and other interested parties to attend this event, who have similar areas of research or, who share our conservation interest in the Făgăraş Mountains.

PURPOSE

The major purpose of the Conference is to create a fair discussion framework for the present and future conservation and sustainable use of biodiversity in Făgăraş Mountains. For this we get together scientists, researchers, educators, conservationists, members of the national and local administrations, representatives of local communities as well as other interested parties to share their experience and dreams on Făgăraş Mountains. We are aiming to exchange ideas and set a common vision related to our future of living in this area in harmony with nature.

ABSTRACTS

The deadline for abstract submission is 30 July 2018.

Abstracts of less than 250 words can be submitted in English without any formatting, by e-mail at: fagaras@ibiol.ro and o.pop@carpathia.org

SCIENTIFIC PRESENTATIONS

Scientific presentations will be conducted on the 10th of December. All the selected papers will be presented during two plenary sessions. The length of each plenary scientific presentation is 10+5 minutes.

POSTERS

Poster size should be 90x120 cm (portrait). Please download and use the official template from <http://www.ibiol.ro/ibb/index.htm>.

Please send the posters in electronic format, together with the registration form and the abstracts by e-mail at: fagaras@ibiol.ro and o.pop@carpathia.org. The posters will be printed by the conference's organisers and mounted in the hallway of the "Ion Heliade Rădulescu" Amphitheatre.

The poster session will be held in the afternoon of the first day. Authors will be expected to stay at their posters during the poster presentation and explain briefly the topic.

PANEL DISCUSSIONS

Three panel discussions will be conducted on the 11th of December, by key speakers from the scientific and administrative bodies (from national and European Level). The main topics are as following: [1] Economics around Făgăraș Mountains; [2] Conservation value of Făgăraș Mountains and [3] Local communities around the Făgăraș Mountains.

On Tuesday, December 11, the Coffee break will be available all day, during the panel discussions, to allow the participants to be fully connected to all the discussions.

LANGUAGES

English and Romanian are the primary working languages at the Conference and its sections. Please contact the organizers regarding the possibility to use other languages and the availability of interpreting services.
